

The Cuckoo

Oh the cuckoo she's a pretty bird, she sings as she flies
But she never sings coo-coo `till the fourth day of July.

Jack o' diamonds, jack o' diamonds, I know you of old
You robbed my poor pockets of silver and of gold.

I've gambled in England, I've gambled in Spain
An' i bet you ten dollars, That i'll beat you next game.

Oh, it's gamblin' that's brought me prison,
And it's gamblin' that's brought me pain
I'll never see the cuckoo or hear her song again
